BACKGROUND

I grew up in a small town in Malaysia. Being second generation Chinese in Malaysia has laid a very meaningful and rich foundation in my life. I am passionate about people development. My beliefs are:

1. We have a choice.
2. We all deserve to live a happy life.
3. We are naturally resourceful.

Twenty years in the corporate world has afforded me a lot of learning experience. Having worked and lived in Malaysia, Thailand, Singapore and now Hong Kong has equipped me with great insights and learning.

My corporate experience spreads widely across business management, key account management, internal change consultancy, to team mentor and internal coach – a path which is entirely aligned with my belief and passion, which is people development.
